

Gen Con shopping Extravaganza

This is a small selection of booths DM David intends to visit at Gen Con 2010, AND that he thinks are of particular relevance to D&D players. There are lots more very cool exhibitors who didn't make the list.

The selection process for the list was essentially "products David knows about and thinks are cool." So if you're an exhibitor, and you'd like to be on the list next year, you need to do two things. First, make something really cool and somewhat relevant to D&D players. Second, make sure DM David knows about it.
